—General Miles is panning out poorly. His act in placing a Second Lieutenant of the regular army in command of the company of frontiersmen recently raised for service against the Indians is a mistake we should think the veriest tyro in Indian fighting would not have made. The frontiersmen are naturally disgusted, so they will start out with their morale destroyed and handicapped further by the command of an officer whom they do not understand and who does not understand them.

—Col. Sutherland's case comes up next Wednesday. In the meantime he is enjoying carriage rides and having a general good time.

—Miss Crowley and Miss Keen, of San Francisco are the guests of Mrs. Sam Wright. Miss Crowley is the daughter of San Francisco's Chief of Police.

—Justice Gaige went below last evening. He will be back to open the Registration books about the first of July. Justice Lange will officiate in his place.

—For constitutional catarrh, and for consumption induced by the scrofulous taint, Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the true remedy. It has cured numerous cases. It will stop the nauseous catarrhal discharges, and remove the sickening odor of the breath, which are indications of scrofulous origin.

—The need of merit for promoting personal aesthetics is due to J. C. Ayer & Co., whose incomparable Hair Vigor is a universal benefactor of the hair. Harmless, effective, agreeable, it has taken rank among the indispensable articles of the toilet. To scanty locks it gives luxuriance, and withered hair it clothes with the hue of youth.

—Imitations have been foisted upon the market, so closely resembling Alcock's Porous Plasters in general appearance as to be well calculated to deceive. It is, however, in general appearance only that they compare with Alcock's, for they are worse than worthless, inasmuch as they contain deleterious ingredients which are apt to cause serious injury. Remember that Alcock's are the only genuine porous plasters—the best external remedy ever known, and when purchasing plasters do not only ask for but see that you get "Alcock's Porous Plasters." The popularity which these plasters have attained during the past thirty years has no parallel, so it is no wonder that imitations and counterfeits abound.

Yesterday's Match.

The match between Carson and the Minnesota team was shot yesterday. Carson did some very poor shooting, scoring but 1,123. Up to the present writing the Minnesota score was not received.

—The defeat of Morrison's motion to take up the Tariff bill indicates that Congress is not going to meddle with the tariff this season. The truth is that there is no popular demand for a change in the tariff. The people are well satisfied with the policy of protection, under which the manifold industries of the country have thrived so well. There will be no general call for a change until there is an evident need of it. It is noticeable that Morrison is supported almost exclusively by Democrats. Of the 130 votes cast for his motion only four were from Republicans.

—A country editor in Illinois sued thirty subscribers in arrears for his paper. He obtained judgment against each for the full amount of his claim. About half of them came up and made oath they had no more property than the law allowed them as exempt from execution. He had this lot arrested and sent to jail. The new postal law makes it larceny to take a paper and not pay for it. He was a plucky editor and knew his rights. He will be paid in future.

THAT RESOLUTION.

A Statement by Request Regarding It.

During the past few days several members of the Anti-Chinese League stated to the editor of the APPEAL that they did not understand that the resolution introduced in the League at its last meeting, had ever been adopted by the committee, and if such was the case, they thought it ought to be stated publicly. The committee after two hour's canvassing the subject, passed the resolution by the following vote.

Aye—Mason, Sweeney, Bryson, Davis. No—Corbett.

The committee adopted the resolution because it reached the conclusion that to continue to ask people to employ white domestics was asking an impossibility, and it was also thought that the League ought to be willing to share the responsibilities that it shouldered on the committee. The committee did not care to be placed in the attitude of prying into peoples' kitchens and regulating their domestic affairs. The committee found employment for several white girls, displacing Chinese with them. Some of these girls seemed to get an idea that they were in some way backed by a committee and could do as they pleased. People are continually running to the committee to ask permission to hire Chinamen in extreme cases, to complain about the white servant girls, and to get the committee to procure them different girls. Again they were met by others who laid all their troubles to the committee's door, and cursed, scolded and threatened them. The APPEAL ventures to say that no State officer has as much work to do as the committee, and all this work was done either gratuitously or at a dead loss to the members of the committee.

The pro-Chinese people cursed the Committee for interfering with the kitchens and the anti-Chinese people curse about as much for not doing more. The Committee never felt that it had authority to dictate to anybody what should be done in the matter of employing white or discharging Chinese help. The League was formed to mould public opinion against the practice of employing Chinese help when white help could be procured. It was not formed to coerce anybody, nor will it do so with the consent of its officers. Since the first meeting a good deal has been accomplished, and now there is not a single competent white man or woman in this city who cannot get some kind of work. The labors of the League have exhausted the white kitchen help in this county, and under these circumstances the Committee adopted the resolution which was voted down by the League.

As the APPEAL understands the aim and object of the League, it is to persuade people to displace Chinese help whenever they could get white help, and not to say to the community, "If you can't get white help you must go without."

A Self-Winding Watch.

Occupying a Pullman stateroom on Erie train 12 the other evening was a man named A. Hirsch, a Chicago dealer in jewelry. He was on his way to Europe with his family, and exhibited to passengers on the train a very curious watch of his own invention, of which he is also the patentee. It is a time-keeper which requires no winding. An arrangement something like the nicely-balanced lever of a pedometer is so applied to the spring of the watch that the motion of the body in walking winds the time-piece. During seven minutes of walking the wearer of a watch winds it so it will run forty-two hours. When wound up, the watch sets a catch automatically, to stop the operation of the winding lever. The watch, Mr. Hirsch says, has been pronounced a success in all particulars by the Elgin Watch Company, and he expects to reap a big fortune by it.—Elmira Advertiser.

—It is said that some of the Sharon estate managers are said to be opposed to the use of Inyo marble for the Sharon gateway at Golden Gate Park, San Francisco. It has not been publicly made known on what grounds the objection is offered.

You can buy the latest styles, silk scarfs for 25cts each at A. Bergman's.

EYE FOR HAY

A Crop That Grows Without Irrigation.

Last Fall the Boise Statesman called attention to the fact that rye sown on dry sagebrush land would produce good feed for stock when cut green. Acting upon the suggestion of the Statesman, a number of ranchers sowed rye last Fall on sagebrush land they were unable to irrigate, and the result is they have a large crop of feed for all kinds. It is not so good nor does stock like it so well as wheat hay, but it is a surer crop than wheat, and is much better than poor hay. In the planting of rye the problem of Winter feed is solved. No farmer need be without feed in future if he will but sow a few acres of rye. The yield is about a ton to the acre, and if there are late rains a very good second crop may be cut, or the second growth may be pastured. The fact that rye can be grown in Idaho is worth much to the stock interests, and to farmers who have no meadow land.

Don't Like It.

The Chronicle today prints on its local page a report of the proceedings of the Democratic State Central Committee at Reno yesterday. The only mistake made was in the selection of the town of Elko for holding the State Convention. A great many Democrats in this city are very much displeased that such an out-of-the-way place should have been chosen. They say it would have been all right had Winnemucca, Wadsworth, Reno, Carson or any other more central place been selected, as the ordinary workingman delegate elected to the Convention would have had a chance to attend it and take an active part in its proceedings without going into bankruptcy. Now it is more than probable that the 26 delegates from this county will be represented by proxy by about half a dozen of their number. The point is well taken, but the suggestion comes too late—the job is done and there should be no further growling.—Chronicle.

Beecher Explains.

Mr. Beecher explained from the pulpit of Plymouth Church how the report came about that he was dead. He said: "I am told that the strike on the Bleeker street horse-car line ended yesterday morning and that the fact was announced in Wall Street on the tickers in these words: 'Bleeker strike dead,' and the bulletin therefore announced, 'Beecher struck dead.' But that 'l' and 'k' saved me."

Where was He?

When Stewart spoke the other night, before the Republican club of Reno, a club organized by Powning, the Washoe Senator was absent. It would have at least seemed the proper thing to do on Powning's part to have been in the audience.

—Every little while some inquisitive newspaper writer wants to know about the missing $10,000 from the San Francisco Sub-Treasury, but all the present and past officials of that institution are dumb as oysters, although a month or so ago they talked glibly.
